Temple University Rome

Why Temple?

Founded in 1884, Temple University in Philadelphia, USA (Main Campus) is a leading research institution that prioritizes accessibility and innovation in higher education

As one of the first and most prestigious U.S. university programs in Italy, Temple University Rome prepares students to become global citizens by equipping them with enhanced cross-cultural, linguistic, analytic, and problem-solving skills.

Within a structured academic, social and cultural framework that uses the city as a classroom, studio and laboratory, Temple Rome provides an immersive experience through high-quality instruction and hands-on, experiential learning.

Choosing to study at Temple means attending a university that is ranked in the Top 50 public schools among national universities and Top 75 best value schools among U.S. universities (U.S. News & World Report, 2027) as well as one of 21 universities in the U.S. to receive both top Carnegie Classifications in research AND student success.

As a Temple student, your experiences are global
With Temple University's global campuses, bachelor's degree programs, entry-year options*, and study abroad experiences, students can take their education worldwide with opportunities to study across campuses in Rome, Philadelphia, Tokyo and Kyoto. Explore what our unique global campuses offer!

* The entry-year option allows students to start their academic journey at their chosen campus (e.g., Rome) and continue years 2 - 4 at other Temple University global campuses, subject to major requirements.

Temple's Global Network
Temple University Rome and Temple University Japan (TUJ) are fully accredited, English-speaking campuses built for students who want a top American education in addition to a global experience—plus, Temple connects students of all majors to a wide array of study abroad opportunities with over 50 programs worldwide.

Undergraduate Life at Temple University Rome

A safe and supportive campus

Student support
Students' well-being is our top priority. At Temple Rome, students have access to individualized support from our Student Life team to help you adjust to college and a new culture.

Academic support
The Academic Support/Student Success office offers Temple Rome students a wide range of academic and career support services. These include subject tutoring (in English, Math, and Italian), writing and research assistance, study coaching, help with cover letters and personal statements, as well as guidance on scholarships and career planning.

Housing
First-year students will be assigned housing options within an easy commute of Temple's Rome campus, including priority placement in dormitory housing adjacent to the Spanish Steps. With the city center at their doorstep and a Temple alum Resident Assistant living in the dorms, students have convenient access to both Rome and a supportive residential community.

Activities
While at Temple Rome, take advantage of weekly activities, such as cooking classes, yoga or calcetto to live as the Romans do and make new friends.

Volunteering
Give back to your community while adding valuable experience to your resume. Volunteer opportunities at human rights organizations, sports events, high schools and more provide you with a unique connection to Rome.

Italian Cultural Labs and Stay Local Activities
To get fully immersed in the local culture, students sign up for a cultural lab each semester. Participate in walking tours, market visits, street art tours, cinema and much more!

Pre-College Programs at Temple Rome

Pre-College Workshops

Get a taste of college life at Temple Rome!

Every Fall and Spring, Temple University Rome offers Pre-college Workshops for high school students at our beautiful campus in Piazza di Spagna. These free weekend workshops allow students to experience university level instruction, expand their current studies, seek new experiences and explore potential majors.

All students currently enrolled in a high school in Rome, public or private, are eligible and encouraged to apply. Courses cover a broad range of topics; students can register for multiple workshops. All courses are taught in English by bilingual instructors and hosted on-site at Temple University Rome.

Temple Rome can offer a Certificate of Participation (Attestato di Partecipazione) to those who complete a workshop. We also work with International Baccalaureate programs to provide certificates of participation for credit.
