Over twenty-five years ago, I attended Temple University because I could study law at its main campus in Philadelphia (America's birthplace) and at Temple University, Japan Campus (TUJ) in Tokyo. As a prospective student, I was very impressed by Temple – a 30,000 student public university – and its strong commitment to global education (Tokyo and Rome). Little did I realize what awaited me. Temple provided me with a springboard to a successful career as an international lawyer, professor, university president, and now TUJ's leader. I invite you to pursue your education at TUJ. We will provide you with an incredible experience that will springboard you to a successful future. We will invest in your success and help you achieve your dreams.

In Japan, I learned what it is to be a minority in a different country. However, by living with and learning from my Japanese host-sisters, I began to find pride in an identity that is not merely American or Japanese, but someone who sees that humanity is a borderless, single community. If all of us had the privilege to do a homestay, it would destroy the prejudice and stereotypes of this world.

While serving in the U.S. Navy, I became a U.S. citizen, moved to Japan, and discovered TUJ. TUJ is the only 4-year American university in Japan that offers specialized degrees in economics, Asian studies, political science, international affairs, and more. I appreciate that professors at TUJ have work experience in their field on top of having big hearts and always being there to lead students to success. I also enjoy participating in TUJ activities outside of class. Additionally, I completed a State Department internship in Dubai, UAE for the World Expo 2020. The knowledge and experience gained at TUJ has helped me set future goals, such as becoming a foreign service officer, intelligence officer, or working for the State Department or other government agencies. I have sincere gratitude to TUJ for making me a stronger person and for always guiding me in the right direction.

How are you financing your education?

The Diamond Scholarship covers my tuition. For other school-related expenses, I'm lucky to have my parents help me out as well as my own savings before coming to Japan.

What are your average monthly expenses?

- Transportation: ¥3,000
- Food & groceries: ¥7,000
- Mobile phone: ¥3,380
- Apartment rent: ¥80,000
- Utilities: ¥10,000
- Miscellaneous: ¥4,000

What do you like to indulge in every now and then?

When I get the chance, I love to go out on little day trips with friends and explore Japan!

I was in my final year when I decided to do an internship, and I'm glad I did. I was accepted as an intern at Wild Tame, a small but passionate production company in central Tokyo. They offered me a full-time position as a graphic designer as soon as I finished my final semester. I genuinely love my job and coworkers, and I'm honored to continue growing as a creative together with them. When I think back on my time at TUJ, I like to think of the people I've come to cherish and the person I've become because of this path I chose. I have the fantastic teachers in the Art Department to thank for helping me broaden my artistic skills in so many ways and to enjoy the creative process. I'm not sure what the future holds, but I like to keep it blank to allow space for whatever new road opens next.

I took a big leap of faith and left my career of six years to follow a dream that started in Japan at Temple University, Japan Campus. My overall experience with the TUJ community, staff and students has made my initial start in Japan a success. In addition to my education, I also had the chance to network with amazing individuals from around the world. With the help of the skills taught by TUJ professors, I completed my goal of graduating. By making many friends along the way, and through the TUJ Job Fair, I was offered a full-time job with Mitsubishi Fuso Truck and Bus Corporation. With the right mindset, the opportunities at TUJ can help you find success not only in Japan but also around the world.

I choose TUJ because of how diverse the student body is. Once I started, I realized that the diversity of the university goes beyond race and ethnicity. Everyone I have met at TUJ has a different story and a different point of view. This diversity made my university life more interesting, lively and fulfilling. I am thankful for all the opportunities I had at TUJ including tutoring at the Teaching & Learning Center, being a research assistant, doing collaborative research, and working for Academic English Program events. I also took the chance to do three internships as part of my degree. Internships are a fantastic way for students to kick-start their career. My supervisors at my internships were always willing to teach me how to improve my skills. My life at TUJ not only prepared me for pursuing a master's degree or starting my career, it also helped me understand what I want to do with my life.
